CONNIE MACK, THE PATRIARCH OF THE DIAMOND IS 52 TODAY.

With his fame a trifle tarnished by the decisive defeats inflicted by the Miracle Man's Bellesse Braves on the historic battlefields of Philadelphia and Boston, General Cornelius McGillicuddy will celebrate his fifty-second birthday today. It is a safe bet that the patriarch of the diamond isn't worrying about the future, in spite of the rout of his forces by the Bostonians and the fact that, for reasons best known to himself, he has had to turn loose his trio of veteran pitchers, Plank, Bender and Coombs. Mack's genius lies in the development of youngsters, and in Bush, Shawkey, Bressler, Pennock and Wyckoff he has a staff of twirlers who may be able to hold for the Athletics the commanding position in the American League which has been theirs for so many years. Connie's machine isn't a total wreck, even minus Collins.

Cornelius McGillicuddy—but every man and boy, calls him Connie Mack—was born Dec. 23, 1862, in East Brookfield, Mass. His father, Michael McGillicuddy, was a native of the Emerald Isle. After graduating from high school, Connie went to work in a shoe factory. His father died when Connie was a lad, and he had to support his mother and a large family of brothers and sisters. In his frequent hours of leisure he played baseball, and developed into a good catcher. At twenty-one he was offered a job with the Meriden, Conn., club. The next season he was with Hartford, where his work as a backstop attracted ed wide attention. In 1887 he broke into the big show with Washington. He remained with the Senators until 1890, when he joined Buffalo, and, the following season, was sold to Pittsburgh. From 1894 to 1896 he was manager of the Pirates, which twice finished in seventh place under Connie's direction. He left Pittsburgh in 1895 and became manager of the Milwaukee team, and it was with the Brewers that he first began to display that managerial genius which has made him "the sage of baseball." In 1900 Ban Johnson launched the American League, and Connie was the pilot of the Milwaukee club in the new circuit. The Brewers finished second that annum, which was Connie's last year as an active ball player. Since then, as pilot of the Athletics, he has conducted his campaign from the bench.

In 1901, when the American League invaded Philadelphia with Connie at the helm, the Athletics finished fourth. The next year he grabbed the pennant of the infant circuit. In 1903 his club finished second, and in 1905. In the next four years Connie's army finished fourth, second, sixth and second respectively. In 1910, 1911, 1913 and 1914 the Mackmen forces were again pennant winners. By capturing the sixth American League flag this year, Connie broke all records for the major circuits. McGraw copped five flags, for New York, Frank Selee got five for Boston, and Adrian Anson five for Chicago. Ned Hanlon annexed three pennants for Baltimore and two for Brooklyn. Charley Comiskey captured four flags for the St. Louis club of the old American Association and one for the Chicago Americans.

Many fans believe that the tall tutor's days as a leader of world's champions are over, but that is a long way from a safe betting proposition. At that, it would help the game if Connie's club could be weakened to the point where the American League race would be less of a foregone conclusion.

Ladies, Look Young, Darken Gray Hair

USE THE OLD-TIME SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR AND NO BODY WILL KNOW.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger. For sale by W. R. Crane Drug Co.

Will be at the Reynolds Barn on Jackson St. Saturday, Dec. 26, to buy fat horses and mules for the Baltimore market. Will buy anything that is fat and not over fifteen years old. TOM McDONNELL.
